The Bar Tribunals & Adjudication Service

The Council of the Inns of Court

JOB DESCRIPTION & PERSON SPECIFICATION

BTAS Panel Secretary

The Council of the Inns of Court and the Bar Tribunals & Adjudication Service

The Council of the Inns of Court (COIC) is a charity with the object of advancing the sound administration of the law; it does this primarily by promoting high standards of advocacy and by enforcing professional standards of conduct amongst barristers. COIC advances the former through the activities of the Inns of Court College of Advocacy (the ICCA) and the latter through the work of the Bar Tribunals and Adjudication Service (BTAS).

Bar Tribunals & Adjudication Service

BTAS is the body responsible for administering Disciplinary Tribunals, Fitness to Practise and other hearings for barristers. It also organises hearings to consider the conduct of prospective barristers to determine whether they are a 'fit and proper' person to practise.

BTAS does not investigate or prosecute alleged misconduct itself, but instead it performs the vital role of ensuring the fairness and independence of the hearing process. Cases are heard by panels of barristers and lay people carefully selected and trained by BTAS for that purpose. At present BTAS hears around 50 cases each year. Its effectiveness is central to the administration of justice in England and Wales and to public confidence in the system.

The Role

The Panel Secretary will play a vital role in ensuring the smooth delivery of the tribunals and hearings at BTAS. This is two-fold; one is sitting in on hearings, drafting reports and providing active support during the hearing. Two is to provide case management support for hearings including setting directions and provide ongoing and proactive management of hearings, identifying any barriers or risks to effective hearing progression and developing interventions or actions to resolve these. The role holder will work closely with the BTAS

Registrar, BTAS Hearings Officer, panel members, BSB and parties to ensure that BTAS hearings are delivered efficiently.
